Caution

Lithium-ion batteries (for rechargeable small household appliances) are classified as “hazardous waste”.

※“Hazardous Waste” is on the third Wednesday of every month.

- Rechargeable home appliances (those that can be used without being plugged into an outlet) use lithium-ion batteries.
- These batteries are dangerous because they can catch fire if subjected to impact, and failure to sort them properly can lead to serious accidents.
- Products containing built-in lithium-ion batteries must be disposed of as “hazardous waste” on the third Wednesday of every month.
